

Kennedy and Nixon Debate Fourth Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth Nixon-Kennedy debate has gone into history with both sides claiming success in an unprecedented series that may—although the possibility is slim—be extended to another match.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy disputed, challenged and rebuffed each other for the better part of an hour Friday night before a television and radio audience spread across the nation.

They clashed sharply over U.S. policy toward Cuba. Nixon said his Democratic rival had been irresponsible as never before in proposing aid to Cuban elements hostile to both Prime Minister Fidel Castro and former dictator Raul Castro.

Kennedy said economic curbs thrown against Cuba by the Eisenhower administration and supported by the GOP candidate were inadequate to cope with Communist penetration of the island republic less than 100 miles from the U.S. coast.

Kennedy said communism is most vulnerable in eastern Europe. Nixon said the Soviets may be cheating on the suspension of nuclear tests.

These latter points were two of the newer slants in the fourth debate. For the most part the candidates rehearsed views stated in their previous meetings or on the campaign stump. And for that reason, voters who previously had seen or heard them argue could not quickly pick the man they favored beforehand as the winner.

Whether or not the fourth debate would stir public demand for an unplanned fifth, Kennedy renewed his call on Nixon to meet again and Nixon said he doesn't rule out anything.

Kennedy had asserted a fifth debate, if not more, would be necessary to keep the record straight. The candidates settled nothing between themselves. Kennedy hurried from the American Broadcasting Co. Studio, where the combined network program originated, to make an appearance at Madison Square Garden and then take off for St. Louis, where he launches a Midwest tour. He and the vice president shook hands.

Nixon told Kennedy he had received the senator's wire, presumably one proposing a fifth debate, and would answer it.

School Book Probe Is Shelved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council, with the sponsor's approval, today shelved a proposed investigation of high school textbooks.

It said it failed to find any evidence of subversive material in any books.

Rep. John Stiles of Craighead County had asked the investigation. He said he found some objectionable passages in one civics textbook, but that this had been revised. Stiles said he was willing to drop the matter.

State Sen. Charles F. Smith of West Memphis, chairman of the council's Education Committee, said he had asked several organizations to provide his group with information about tainted textbooks.

He said some information had been furnished but that much of it was outside the scope of the proposed investigation.

Disarmament Debate in UN Continues

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly's annual debate on disarmament continues today under the shadow of a Soviet boycott threat and a U. S. charge that the Communists are using the critical arms issue as a propaganda springboard.

The two big nuclear powers clashed at the outset of debate Wednesday in the assembly's 99-nation Political Committee, further dimming the prospect of any speedy East-West agreement to resume disarmament negotiations.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin provoked a sharp U. S. retort with his warning that the Soviets would walk out on the disarmament debate if the United States and its allies insist on pushing their proposals for arms reductions.

Charging that the Western proposals would hamstring the committee's efforts, Zorin snapped that "the Soviet Union will not participate in such a waste of time."

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth shot back that the United States would not be swayed by tough Soviet talk. "We will not walk out of this committee in any circumstances," Wadsworth declared, "and we will not be intimidated by a Soviet threat to do so."

Wadsworth questioned whether Soviet opposition to combined discussion of all four disarmament items on the committee's agenda was a prelude to the walkout Premier Khrushchev had threatened when he first broached the new Soviet arms proposal before the General Assembly nearly two weeks ago.

Blames GOPs for State Standing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. Attorney Osro Cobb, former long-time chairman of the Arkansas Republican state committee, has said Arkansas Republicans can't blame the state's Democrats for the one-party system as long as the Republicans aren't running candidates in every race.

"We are in fact aiders and abettors to the one-party situation," he said, "and we can hardly blame the Democrats for our own default."

Cobb said that more than 50 percent of the few Republicans who have run for county offices over the state in past years have won. He said this is evidence that the state is ready for a militant competitive two-party system.

Cobb, who was chairman of the state committee for 22 years before being named U. S. Attorney in 1954, made his remarks in a letter to Winthrop Rockefeller, who is promoting a drive for a two-party system in Arkansas.

Titan Base Land Payment Made

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal government planned its first payment for land to be used in the Titan II missile base today. J. G. Gould, a U. S. Engineers land attorney, said the checks would go to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McCall, Star Route 2, Beebe, Ark. and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heibel, Route 1, Beebe for a tract in the Antioch community north of Beebe.

Swiss Bankers Are Involved in Gold Deal

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A new gold rush is on in London. It has almost as many trappings as the California gold rush and more international drama than the rush to the Klondike.

The later-day gold rush is one of price rather than mining. It involves the Swiss bankers whose moves in international finance are always cloaked in secrecy and therefore doubly interesting to the public.

The gold price hike also involves the prestige of the American dollar, and rumors—mostly wild ones—of what the U. S. Treasury might do about its fixed price for gold. It dips deep into the uncertainty about the trend of the U. S. economy and even the possible effect on the economy of the U. S. election.

The spurt in the price of gold in London is tied in closely with our policy of easier money and lower interest rates and with the subsequent flow of so-called hot money from Wall Street to Europe and especially to West Germany and Switzerland, where money commands higher returns.

The gold rush has sparked price rises here and abroad in the stocks of gold producers.

Reduced to bare figures the gold rush is eye-catching enough. Monday the price of gold on the London market was $100.00.

Bomb Scare Has Costly Ending

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For telling an airline stewardess he had a bomb in his suitcase, Stanley Carlson must pay $10 a month in charity for the next five years. Carlson, 27, boarded an American Airlines jet last June 16 to fly to New York. A stewardess asked him to put his suitcase under his seat. He said perhaps he had better not because it contained a bomb.

Later he said he was only joking.

U. S. District Judge William Mathes Thursday fined him $1,000 and sentenced him to a year in prison for being named U. S. Attorney in 1954, made his remarks in a letter to Winthrop Rockefeller, who is promoting a drive for a two-party system in Arkansas.

Cuba Says U.S. Ban Will Not Hurt

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's economic czar said Thursday night the U. S. embargo on most exports to Cuba will not seriously harm the island nation partly because black marketeers in the United States will defy it.

But National Bank President Ernesto Guevara conceded that Cuba faces difficulties. He said the nation "must have confidence in the solidarity of the nations that have offered to stand by us, extending economic aid and even volunteers and, figuratively speaking, rockets—an obvious reference to Soviet Russia and the Communist bloc."

Guevara spoke on a two-hour TV program before leaving today with eight other officials on a trade-building trip to the Soviet Union, Red China, Czechoslovakia, North Korea and East Germany.

Black marketeers in the United States have worked against Washington's trade bans in the past, and they will evade this one, Guevara declared.

Guevara said that "there is a serious threat" of what he called U. S. financial invasion in the near future from Guatemala.

"I believe they'll come," he said, "but I also believe they will never get out."

The U. S. embargo on all shipments to Cuba except medical supplies and food forces Cuba to look for purchases in new markets where American influence is not felt, Guevara said. He warned that the new customers for Cuban sugar, the island's chief export crop, are not going to pay the premium price the United States paid when much of the Cuban sugar industry was American-owned.

But with a faint smile, he said the United States may have some difficulty in getting all the sugar it wants now that it has cut off Cuba's sugar quota.

One of Guevara's chief purposes in going to Moscow, it is believed, is to sell Cuba's entire 1960-61 sugar crop to the Communists.

80 Million Are Eligible to Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic campaign forecast today that, for the first time, more than 80 million Americans will be eligible to vote in this year's presidential election.

Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey, chairman of his party's Voters' Registration Committee, estimated that more than 76 million men and women have registered for the Nov. 8 election. This, he said, is an increase of nearly 9.5 million over 1958, and the increase may top 10 million.

Letter By Three Bishops Is Raising Cain

By HORST BUCHHOLZ
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A political storm raged in this U. S. commonwealth today over a pastoral letter by three Roman Catholic bishops telling members of their church not to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's popular Democratic party in the election Nov. 8.

Munoz Marin, a Catholic seeking re-election on this predominantly Catholic island, declared the bishops' letter an "incredible and unjust intervention in political liberties of Puerto Rican citizens."

The independent newspaper San Juan Star said the bishops have grievously transgressed against the Catholic Church. "It urged that Pope John XIII transfer them from the island and replace them with representatives of catholicism who recognize the indispensability of the principle of separation of church and state."

Twenty teachers from the University of Puerto Rico picketed the Roman Catholic Cathedral Friday night with signs protesting the letter. One sign said, "Would Kennedy follow his bishop?"

Through his press secretary, Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for president, and a Roman Catholic, issued a statement in New York that he "considers it wholly improper" for churchmen of any faith to tell members of their church how to vote.

Puerto Rico's popular Democratic party which got 65 per cent of the popular vote in 1956 is not affiliated with the mainland Democratic party. The island's Republican party, which is campaigning for statehood, has connections with the mainland Republican party but Puerto Ricans do not have a vote for president of the United States.

New Title for 51 Proposed by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has said he directed that a new title be written for proposed Amendment 51 for purposes of clarification, then approved the amended title.

The title has been attacked as misleading in the Arkansas Supreme Court. If the Court upholds the attack, the proposed amendment could be stricken from the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

The amendment, which would increase taxing powers of municipalities, was one of three placed on the ballot by the 1959 General Assembly.

Faubus said Thursday he had William J. Smith, his legislative advisor, draw up a new title, which he described as clearer than the original one. The new title reads:

"An amendment to enable the voters in cities to levy, not to exceed five mills, for capital improvements; to enable the voters in cities to levy, not to exceed five mills, for general governmental purposes; and to enable the governing body of each first and second class city to determine salary limits for officials."

The Supreme Court pleading contends that the new title purports to limit taxing powers while the body of the amendment, in effect, removed present constitutional limits.

The section of the amendment cited in the court case reads:

"The General Assembly may by legislative act allow cities of the first and second class to levy additional taxes for any municipal purpose, now or hereinafter authorized, and such taxes or the rates therefore shall not be limited by any existing constitutional amendment."

Wildlife Association Plans Squirrel Mulligan for Many Member and Their Families

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Next Wednesday night at Fair Park, beginning at 7:00 p. m., the Hempstead County Wildlife Association will have a squirrel mulligan for members and their families. Anyone who has squirrels for the affair should take them to the Hope Locker Plant or notify Harry Hawblorne or Dorsey Melton.

Since Hempstead County has the largest Wildlife Association in the state, there should be a good turnout for a gala time. Not only is this association in our county large in size, it is also active in projects to promote better hunting and fishing in our area.

Through the efforts of this group the Bolds, Arc area is receiving state-wide attention and support. The duck hunting reservoir has been completed and by next spring fishing will also be possible at this new haven for sportsmen. Other projects are being explored by the Hempstead County Wildlife Association, including the stocking of quail and deer in the old Proving Ground area north of Hope.

This reporter was surprised to hear it stated that everyone in Hempstead County should belong to this organization, whether sports-minded or not, because of the big role that hunting and fishing play in the economic story of the county and, in fact, the whole state.

Is it "stretching" things a little to refer to the hunting and fishing "industry"? After all, aren't those past-times that are rightfully in the category of Recreation rather than Business? Do they deserve "ranking" consideration in the industrial picture of the state?

A few facts and figures might help to answer these and other questions you have concerning hunting and fishing and the economic story of Arkansas. Last year hunters spent over $23 million in Arkansas. If you think that sounds big, cast your eyes in the direction of the fishermen. They spent almost $50 million. If you add to these figures the $4 million spent on hunting dogs, you'll find that last year over $77 million was spent on Arkansas hunting and fishing.

Fishing without a license still tops the list of game and fish law violations. A national survey in 1955 revealed that one in every three fishermen and one in every six hunters are not licensed. For some reason, call it ignorance or indifference, these violators don't realize they are harming themselves in the long-run. The laws are for the protection of sportsmen and game alike, both now and in the future.

Going back to that 1955 survey we find that hunters spent $23,081,247 in Arkansas, fishermen spent $49,904,668, and hunting dogs and their licenses cost $4,281,720 that year. Licensed hunters and fishermen drove 202,470,983 miles last year, so the economic aspects of transportation must also be considered.

Just remember. These statistics don't include expenditures for boating, skiing, swimming, and other outdoor recreations—only hunting and fishing in the Land of Opportunity, which certainly proves that it is a totally accurate slogan for those who like to hunt and to fish.

Could hunting and fishing in Arkansas be considered big business or a major state industry? What do you think?

New York Is Terrible, Says Nikita

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev dislikes New York and he told the Soviet people via TV just why it is repulsive, for one thing, it sums up the degeneration of capitalism for another, he said.

Khrushchev spoke to a homecoming audience Thursday on what he told abroad, Russians, somewhat bewildered by two hours of Khrushchev discourse on international problems, sat up expectantly as he spoke of New York.

"I would like to tell you, comrades about New York City. This is a very big city. Gorky (the Soviet novelist) called it the City of the Yellow Devil. But more than 50 years have passed since Gorky visited it," he said with a grin.

"Since then New York has become even more repulsive, by itself, it demonstrates the ugliness and degeneration of capitalism. People live there, drowning themselves eternally in a hard, unbearable life as if bricking themselves in a stone bag."

"Rather high buildings are being torn down. And instead of them, they build skyscrapers. The city is climbing upward. On some of the streets, trees are being planted, but they cannot grow, and perish."

"Especially pitiful is the picture of children, for they are deprived of many childhood joys. They are deprived not only of running but walking in the open fresh air that is so necessary for each living being. Streets are filled with huge numbers of automobiles. As is known, automobiles work on gasoline. And the whole atmosphere is poisoned with gasoline. So in this respect, New York is a terrible city."

Faubus Buys Out Former Paper Foe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that he has purchased controlling interest in the weekly Arkansas Recorder and will take over its active management about Dec. 1.

Victor Ray, editor since last March, will resign as soon as a successor can be found. Ray also is editor of three other periodicals.

Asked if Faubus' move had anything to do with his resignation, Ray replied, "In a way. But I have to many other things to do. Anyway, he needs a full time man in charge of the paper now, and I have three others to handle."

Page one of this week's edition of the Recorder, out today, carried an announcement that Faubus had purchased the interest of Jop, Paul Van Dalsem of Perryville.

It also carried an editorial signed with Faubus' name.

During Faubus' fourth term campaign last summer, an opponent produced what appeared to be the reproduction of a $1,000 check to Faubus, which the governor had endorsed to the Recorder.

At the time Faubus denied any direct connection with the newspaper.

The paper's announcement said: "Under Ray's ownership, the paper has held to a non-political policy devoted to reporting of Capitol business and features about people who work there."

"Governor Faubus said that the paper can be expected to deal with more controversial subjects under his ownership. He said he believed that is a need for a statewide weekly newspaper that will under his ownership. He said he believed there is a need for a statewide weekly newspaper that will deal factually with current issues and problems. He has been a frequent critic of the handling of the news by the daily newspapers at Little Rock."

D. J. Wagner, 19, was in critical condition in a Waldron hospital and David Edwards, 19, was taken to a Fort Smith hospital.

Soviets Keep Harassing Hammarskjold

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviets made their daily attempt to keep harassing Dag Hammarskjold in the apparent hope of forcing him to quit as secretary-general.

The attacks steadily mounting in intensity, are expected to reach a climax Monday or Tuesday when Hammarskjold is slated to put in an estimated bill of $150 million to $200 million to cover the cost of the Congo operation through next year.

The Soviet bloc served notice in the 99-nation Financial Committee Friday that they will not pay any part of the Congo bill. Czechoslovakia accused the United Nations of playing a "dirty role" in the strife-torn African state and charged Hammarskjold with hypocrisy and showing "partiality to the West."

The attack sparked a sharp reply from the United States which branded it a move aimed at wrecking the United Nations.

Albert P. Bender, U. S. delegate, called the Czech statement "one of the most deplorable ever made in this body."

He said that by charging the United Nations with playing a "dirty role," Czech delegate Miroslav Nevskan had hurled insults at Hammarskjold, the U. S. government and all other nations which voted to set up a U. N. force in the Congo.

"Our organization is built on good faith," Bender declared, "it suggests that whoever attempts to destroy that good faith is not only violating the spirit of the charter, he may well be considered to have as his goal the total destruction of the United Nations itself by sowing the seeds of distrust."

Later, the Soviets issued a statement accusing Hammarskjold of following a policy of "direct sabotage" of Security Council resolutions of the Congo.

The Soviets charged that Patrice Lumumba, deposed Congo premier, was being denied the right to appear before the General Assembly to report on the situation. It also accused Hammarskjold of refusing to ensure normal conditions for functioning of the Congo parliament.

Hammarskjold's Congo advisory committee met Friday night reportedly to discuss the feasibility of having the U. N. try to convene the Congo Parliament to spell out just who is the actual head of government.

Informants believed that the Soviets knew of this and were trying to get on the bandwagon by issuing a call for the Parliament to meet.

Accuses U. S. of Planning Two Attacks

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party paper, today accused the United States of setting up an attack force in Guatemala and Florida to invade Cuba by the end of this month—before the presidential elections in the United States.

The paper said the force had for its nucleus supporters of deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista and that 90 American planes and landing craft had concentrated there in Guatemala and Florida.

"On the day of landing it is contemplated to subject Havana to bombing from the air," said the article by Y. Zhukov, a commentator on foreign affairs.

Zhukov cited a report from Honduras by Cuba's Castro-controlled Prensa Latina Agency that 30 transport planes "with hundreds of Batista and military equipment from the United States" had arrived at various bases in Guatemala in preparation for the invasion.

"Thus the rulers of the United States would like to give their provocations the appearance of an interior struggle and so deprive the people of Cuba of aid from peace-loving states. A vain attempt!" said Pravda.

Swiss Bankers

don market jumped 1 1/2 cents an ounce, Tuesday it rose 8 cents, Wednesday it jumped 20 1/2 cents, Thursday morning it spurted nearly $3 an ounce.

By law the U.S. Treasury price is $35 an ounce.

Why the sudden notion that gold is worth more than that?

The British trace the immediate rush to buy gold to the action of Swiss bankers acting for their unnamed clients who want to turn their dollar holdings into gold. This is to evade Swiss decrees aimed at halting the influx of hot money.

The Swiss now charge a 1 percent commission on deposits of foreign funds and the banks aren't allowed to pay interest on foreign funds deposited with them. The money that once sought investment in high yielding short-term U.S. securities started leaving this country when interest rates dropped. The Swiss are trying to discourage the excess flow.

A longer term reason for the conversion of dollar holdings into gold is belief in some circles that the U.S. dollar isn't the "super-strong currency it once was."

Our exports are currently running nearly $4 billion higher than our imports compared with this time a year ago when they were about equal. But the deficit from other sources though smaller, still exists. And the excess dollars that central banks of other nations get this way can be turned into gold at our treasury, under our law.

Our gold holdings are now around $18 1/2 billion. Most observers say little trouble would arise unless they fell below $18 billion.

Nixon Claims Kennedy's Film Phony

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today charged Sen. John F. Kennedy with showing a phony film of his first television debate. A Republican campaign spokesman called it "vicious political trickery."

Nixon headquarters also denounced a political cartoon circulated by the United Auto Workers, saying that it suggests anyone who votes for the GOP presidential candidate is a bigot.

Robert H. Finch, Nixon's campaign director, leveled the attack at Kennedy as the vice president prepared for the last of the televised campaign debates tonight.

Finch said a five-minute televised political commercial which appeared in New York Thursday was altered by Kennedy technicians. They changed the sequence of appearances, Finch said, to portray Nixon as agreeing with Kennedy during a single speech by the Democratic candidate.

Actually, Finch said, "a series of comments by Sen. Kennedy was run together to appear as one delivery, and the shot of the vice president was inserted where the film was spliced."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said a formal complaint "undoubtedly" will be lodged against the TV film. He said the complaint might be filed

Deportations Protested in Oregon

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

A girl wrote you that her family and church believed it okay to kiss a boy goodnight. You didn't believe the family and church was right. Well, I do.

May I ask where you get your know-all?

How do you know that this girl isn't going to grow up and marry this boy or do you believe that a woman shouldn't kiss her husband, or the man she's going to marry?

I doubt if you answer this or put it in the paper. —One Who Kisses a Boy Goodnight

Dear One Who Kisses a Boy Goodnight: I am the last person in the world to set love short.

There is little enough of it in this world but I still think a girl of 13 is too young to be passing out goodnight kisses. There'll be time enough for kisses when she is engaged or married. Then, I hope, she doesn't hold back.

Dear Helen:

I was furious when you said that a 14-year-old girl is too young to date. And that a 12-year-old is too young to wear lipstick and that a 14-year-old girl is too young to kiss her boy friend goodnight.

I'm 12 and I look like I'm 16 or 17. I've always been large for my age and I think you're wrong and don't know what you're talking about. I wear lipstick and I kiss my boy friend goodnight. Not all girls are as bad as you make them sound. By the way I got A's and B's in school. I've been on the Honor Roll every year. I've never had any trouble with boys and neither have any of my friends. Our mother's and dad's trust us.

Dear "Furious": Three cheers for your spunk! I wish we might see eye to eye. Perhaps we shall when you are married and have children of your own. They believe you will agree that no 12- or 13-year-old girl, however mature looking, knows enough about life to be dating and kissing.

Scott Fitzgerald wrote a novel called "The Baby With Rugged Lips." I thought of that title when I read your letter. You may think you know all the answers but you still have a lot to learn. For your own happiness, don't push the trial of Union Leaders Recessed

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The trial of Teamsters Union Local 688 and four of its officers here has been indefinitely recessed because of the illness of U. S. Dist. Judge George H. Moore.

The union and the men are charged with making illegal political contributions in federal election campaigns.

The defense, presenting its case when the trial was recessed because of Judge Moore's illness. He is suffering from neuralgia.

Individuals on trial are Harold J. Gibbons, executive vice president of the international union; William Latal, president of 688; John Naber, secretary of the local; and Sidney Agri, former political activity director of 688 and now an international officer.

Rangoon Gambling

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Rangoon gambling syndicates are taking bets on the outcome of the U.S. presidential election. Today's odds favor Sen. John F. Kennedy 3-2 over Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Betting was reported heavy and confined largely to wealthy businessmen.

with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a nonpartisan organization set up to review campaign complaints.

Asked by a reporter whether complaint might also be filed with the Federal Communications Commission, Klein said there are no plans for that now.

Klein said the film was "another indication of the smear campaign. We're worried about the trend toward this type of politics and we just wonder what they're going to do next."

He said Nixon aides have viewed original films of the debate and that the Nixon shots on the Kennedy campaign film were definitely out of context.

After the first debate, some Republicans suggested Nixon was too agreeable with Kennedy's statements, and urged him to be more aggressive in their later meetings.

Finch said the Kennedy film "can only be called vicious political trickery of the most contemptible sort." He also asserted:

"This, together with the Reuther smear sheet put out suggesting anyone who votes for Vice President Nixon is a bigot indicates that Kennedy will go to any length and use any device in his desperate effort to win this election."

Finch referred to an insert circulated in a newspaper published by the auto workers union, headed by Walter Reuther, President Eisenhower also had denounced the published item.

After it appeared, Reuther expressed public regrets for it, and said a subsequent issue would include an editorial to eliminate any "possible misinterpretation."

The cartoon showed a figure of a Ku Klux Klan member and the Statue of Liberty with the caption: "Which do you choose? Liberty or bigotry?" It did not mention Nixon.

An aide said Nixon is "looking forward eagerly" to his fourth TV and radio debate with Kennedy.

DOROTHY DIX

Sound and Fury

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

No wonder divorce is on the increase the way you and another well-known Lovelorn columnist dish out advice.

In a recent column you advised a poor overworked wife to cuddle up her lazy good-for-nothing husband as she would an insecure child, to build up his ailing ego. You said marriage was a two-way street. Well, this sounds like a one-way street with a dead end to me.

We women marry for love, security and children. It is pretty hard when we start off with an insecure husband. Do we expect to look pretty and not bother hubby with household problems, give him time for hobbies, and don't forget to let him read the paper in peace even if you have to shut the kids in the closet? A woman who works 50 hours a week and still does all this, is going some!

The recent trend has been to give father back his place as head of the house. Well, if father would come out of his cave man thinking and assume the responsibility of leading his family, not only financially, but emotionally and spiritually, it would be a better world. But we women get tired of leading (with capital L) and doing (with capital D) all by ourselves. Please print this. Any comments would be welcomed. —A Daily Reader

Dear Daily Reader: You must be a very unhappy wife. Ego-building is a good thing. If more wives and husbands practiced it, there would be fewer matrimonial crack-ups. Incidentally, this is not a Lovelorn feature. It is a family service column, with the emphasis on helping all kinds of people, of all ages, to help themselves.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "A Happy Marriage."

U.S. to Start Paying in Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The U.S. Embassy in Laos finally got orders today to resume military aid to the Laotian army, five days after the State Department announced the resumption.

An embassy announcement did not specify whether the pay was to go only to forces controlled by the neutralist government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, or whether soldiers supporting rebel right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan would also share.

The Laotian soldiers have not

U. S. Plans to Maintain Gold Price

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Treasury today reaffirmed its firm position of maintaining the price of gold at $35 an ounce.

The Treasury issued a formal statement in reaction to the unprecedented jump in the price of gold on the London and other foreign markets.

"The United States will continue its policy of buying gold from and selling gold to foreign governments central banks and under certain conditions international institutions for the settlement of international balances or for other legitimate monetary purposes at the established rate of $35 per fine troy ounce exclusive of handling charges" it said.

"As Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson has stated many times in the past it is our firm position to maintain the dollar at its existing gold parity."

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve Board said that it would have no statement.

The Treasury statement was issued after Anderson and top aides had spent most of the morning weighing the significance of the gold movements on world markets.

Lady Norah Ready to Make Peace

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—Lady Norah Docker sent out peace feelers today for a summit meeting with Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

She wants to end the state of war that has existed between her and the monarch of the world's roulette capital for 2 1/2 terrible years.

"The prince and I," said Lady Norah, "should make our peace."

He is stubborn and I am stubborn. But this silly little quarrel is not worthy of the long, bitter, widely publicized row it has grown into," she said.

The Docker-Monaco war began in April 1958. Lady Norah and her millionaire husband, Sir Bernard, patrons of Monte Carlo for many years, were invited to attend the christening of Rainier's son and heir, by Princess Grace, the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood.

Rainier failed, however, to invite Lady Norah's son, Lance. The prince declined to correct oversight when it was brought to his attention.

One thing led to another, culminating in a scene in a Monte Carlo restaurant where Lady Norah disdainfully tipped up a paper flag of Monaco.

Prince Rainier forthwith expelled the Dockers from his tiny realm. He went farther. He had the French government declare them persona non grata on the entire French Riviera. There matters stand between him and Lady Norah.

Officially she's Lady Docker because the title is her husband's and not hers. But to the English, who hear of her high society scrapes regularly, she's Lady Norah.

"I am seriously considering a sizeable investment in a plan to enlarge the harbor at Cannes," said fiftieth Lady Norah, a buxom and still comely blonde. "But I know this would not get me back on my beloved Riviera."

The summit meeting, if it comes off, will have to wait a while. Lady Norah and Sir Bernard are leaving Thursday for a business trip to Canada, followed by a vacation in the Bahamas.

This will give the prince several months to think it over.

Johnson in Talk for Amendment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 200 Arkansas segregationists attending a "Southern Patriots Rally," here Thursday night were told to vote for proposed constitutional Amendment 52, and for State Rights Party electors in the Nov. 8 general election.

Arkansas Supreme Court Justice Jim Johnson championed Amendment 52 in a lengthy speech in spacious Robinson Auditorium.

Leander H. Porez, former district attorney and former prosecuting attorney of Plaquemine and St. Bernard Parishes in southern Louisiana, beat the drums for States Rights votes.

Porez said election of States Rights Party electors in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia would give states rights 36 electoral college votes and the possible balance of power in a tight election.

He said such a path was the only means to stop desegregation which he called "this communist conspiracy."

Johnson, who has announced a slumping campaign for school closing Amendment 52, urged members of the Capital Citizens Council, the rally's sponsoring hen paid since August. With the army split between Souvanna and Phoumi and confusion generally reigning in the strategic kingdom, the United States on Oct. 8 announced military aid to Laos had been suspended until the situation clarified.

Children Fail to Summon Help

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 3-year-old girl drowned Tuesday evening in a neighbor's swimming pool. Other children who saw her fall in ran a block to her home rather than summoning aid from closer by.

Investigators said Constance Belz fell into three feet of water in the pool at the rear of the home of Betsy Kochis, also 3, whose father is a doctor. Instead of running into the Kochis' home, companions ran to get the Belz girl's mother.

By the time Mrs. Belz reached the scene, her daughter was unconscious. Mrs. Kochis, home at the time, said the first she was aware of the accident was when she saw people congregating at the pool, surrounded by a fence through which the Belz girl entered.

Czechs Blast Congo Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Czechoslovakia declared today it was a violent knocking on the door. Rossini, still standing in the cockpit in his hand, glanced at the others gavel. Paolo slipped his revolver out of his pocket and Luchino started hurriedly up the stairs to warn Tonino, whose radio ticked distantly in the silence which followed the knocking.

Rossini tiptoed quickly to the window which gave a view of the door. "It's Felice. Something's happened." He threw open the door as Luchino came down the stairs.

For a fraction of a second Felice stood in the doorway, holding the bicycle she had loaned to Livio. As Rossini took the bicycle from her and let it down on the ground, she saw Luchino on the bottom step and, running to him, buried her head in his shoulder and began to sob.

"What is it, cara? What has happened?" Luchino stroked her head tenderly.

She raised her head and spoke in a broken voice. "Luchino—it's Livio — the boy — they've killed him!"

"Felice!" Luchino said, gently leading her to the sofa, "sit down with me." He looked up at the others, neither of whom had moved. "Is there a drop of whiskey left?"

"I'll get it—yes." Paolo ran up the steps.

"Luchino, he died in the kitchen. On the floor. I was holding his head in my lap. Before the doctor came. It is my fault, Luchino."

"Who did it?" Luchino asked. "He said it was Resistance boys—partisans. He only talked a few minutes. He just said, 'The Anti-Fascists... young men.' She took another sip of whiskey.

"Did he say why? What happened?"

"He said they 'confiscated' my bicycle—they needed it, they said. It was terrible, Luchino—horrible—that poor child."

"Did he say anything else?"

"He said, 'They weren't Trastevere, Signora Principessa, or I'd have known them. They talked like San Giovanni.' And then he said, 'I'm sorry they broke your bicycle, Signora, but I didn't let them have it.'"

"You go upstairs," Rossini said. "Luchino will sit with you. You'd better spend the night here, I think."

Luchino led Felice up the steps. Neither Rossini nor Paolo spoke until they were out of hearing.

"Murderers!" Paolo's voice was bitter.

"Aren't we all responsible, too?"

Paolo stared at him a moment, a long moment. Then, with all the anger gone from his voice: "Yes, we are. Especially I am. I used a child to do a dangerous job."

"No more than Luchino and I did. After all, Paolo—and I don't want to offend you—you are only a boy yourself. Yet you country sent you here, gave you power of life and death over lots of people. But Luchino is no longer a boy, and I am really an old man. There's Gigi, too—he

CHAPTER XX

Politics and cherrys, then lunch and wine, the long summer day passed lazily and happily, with just enough spice of excitement and anticipation to keep them awake and their conversation going.

"I was counted out of the pool last night—the Allies hadn't arrived," Luchino took a scrap of paper from his pocket as he spoke. "Today and tomorrow are yours, Paolo—you've still got a chance—but it looks as if you'll win." He nodded toward Rossini.

"What if they don't come by midnight of the fifth—Monday?" he replied. "Do we draw again?"

"They've got to be here by Monday night," Paolo insisted. "Let's not even consider a further wait. By Monday they have to be here—there won't be any Germans left! The Allies'll be pulled in by the vacuum! Listen!"

Paolo cocked an ear. "There goes some more German equipment up the Via Ardeatina. I'll just run down near the road to identify it if I can, for our night report." He rose and hurried away.

Tonino called down the stairs to them. "London says the Germans are evacuating Rome. But they didn't give us a credit line."

In a few minutes Paolo was back. "Only Blackshirts—some Fascist Youth, hardly more than a battalion, with German equipment, pulling out."

At half past seven Rossini went into the kitchen with Partonopa to experiment in making some coffee by roasting together seed-barley and chicory roots.

"There was a violent knocking on the door," Rossini, still standing in the cockpit in his hand, glanced at the others gavel. Paolo slipped his revolver out of his pocket and Luchino started hurriedly up the stairs to warn Tonino, whose radio ticked distantly in the silence which followed the knocking.

Bobcats and Panthers Tie

In 0-0 Game

By VINCE FOSTER

HOPE STAR SPORTSWRITER
A holding penalty, which called back a Hope touchdown, enabled the Magnolia Panthers to hold the Bobcats to a scoreless tie last night in Mulerider Stadium.

The last Bobcat tie ball game came 47 games ago in 1959, when Hope tied Crossett 7-7.

Early in the first quarter, the Bobcats drove 54 yards in 10 plays to the Panther 15. Here HB Larry Arnett scooted around his left end for the touchdown, but it was called back to the Panther 30 on a 15 yard holding penalty.

One play later the Cats had to give up the ball on downs.

During the half were the Homecoming activities and the marching of the Hope and Magnolia bands.

In the second half, the Bobcats threatened twice but again had to give up the ball on these occasions because of a fumble and another holding penalty. The good breaks just didn't seem to be with the Cats last night, and that can be very discouraging to any team.

HB Joe Duke was the top rusher for the Bobcats with 86 yards in 17 carries. He was followed by Herndon, Arnett, Lloyd, and Crain with 38, 35, 33, and 12 yards respectively. Linemen on defense and offense for the Cats were Compton, Churchill, Roberts, Gilman, Walters, Yocum, Beggs, Jones, Easterling, and Padden.

FB Mike Longing led the Panther backfield with 92 yards, and he was followed by HB Roger Burton with 41.

At present the conference record for the Bobcats is one win, three losses, and one tie. Magnolia's record stands at two losses and two ties.

"The boys hard, played their hearts out, but they still didn't win," commented Coach Pierce and Huddleson.

Thursday night the Hope Junior Bobkittens remained undefeated, as they sailed past the Arkadelphia Junior Beavers 14-0. Bobkitten tackle Jimmy Walker blocked four Beavers punts to set up the Bobkitten scores.

The Kittens scored early in the first period, as FB Dan Jones plunged over from the four, Jones also added the extra point, and the Kittens then led 7-0.

The clinching touchdown came in the final quarter, as HB Jerry Burnett passed complete 16 yards to end Emmett Waddle, standing in the end zone. Burnett ran the P.A.T. and thus closed the scoring.

Dan Jones was the top rusher for Hope with 72 yards in 12 carries, and Winters was high for the Beavers with 51 yards in 10 carries. Randolph, Butler, and Walker led the Kittens line.

The Bobkittens out rushed Arkadelphia 103 yards to 123, and Hope out passed them 24 yards to 9.

Seeing action for these undefeated Bobkittens were: Butler, Waddle, Brown, Wright, Caldwell, Randolph, King, Walker, Jones, Moses, McLarty, McDowell, and Burnett.

U.S. Insignia Used

HAVANA (AP) — The Cubans have been painting U.S. insignia on some of their air force transport planes, perhaps to use them in a way to embarrass the United States, diplomatic sources report.

The informants Thursday night said five twin-engine transports were given U.S. markings at San Antonio de Los Baños air base and that before the painting was done, families living near the base were moved out.

THE WAY

...the New Way. "In those days came John the Baptist, preaching... 'Repent.'" A simple statement that means so much. The man who speaks looks strange. His clothing is unattractive, his face unshaven, his body lean from fasting and prayer. But his eye is clear, his voice strong, his spirit challenging. He knows a wonderful secret and would share it. John's first word is, "Repent." Stop working against God and yourself. He appears to be warning... sons and daughters of God, quit living like children of the Devil. Attend Sunday school, worship in church and associate yourself with good.

You In The Church

The Church In You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
